INTRODUCTION

The amount of additional information seems to be increasing at a rapid rate - some in part due to the obituaries of our older cousins whose records have already been published in previous volumes, and some due to the addition of previously lost lines. Thus it appears now that it may be necessary to include a supplement in each subsequent volume covering additions and corrections on the earlier generations. Each tenth generation volume will, no doubt, contain additional data or corrections on records of previous generations through ninth generation, as space permits.

Not all available additions and corrections in 9th generation have been included in Volume V, but they will appear in 10th generation at or near the time their children's records will appear in 10th generation. However, all available changes on the earlier generations will have appeared as soon as possible in each 10th generation volume.

There should be no great delay in publication because of these additions and corrections since such information is keyed in and put on tapes for the computer which will control the typewriter used in typing the manuscript for the printer. The greatest delay seems to be in trying to get the xerox copies to the families who can check their records for errors and fill in omitted data. Current addresses are a MUST in order to speed up this process. It can only come by the cooperation of those who know the address of their relative who has moved.

Since Herman Fillmore's record appears in Volume V and since he was the cousin who first called for a Tingley family reunion in 1963 and then organized Tingley's-United (T-U) in the Spring of 1964 it seems fitting and proper that we dedicate Volume V to Herman Clide Fillmore 10-00724, who passed away June 12th, 1977.

As always, "Anyone finding any errors in these records or having additional records of any family of Tingley blood, is earnestly requested to communicate the same to the compiler of this revision, Mrs. Marian M. Frye, R. F. D. #3, Box 168, Elkton, VA 22827, U. S. A., so they may be added in future volumes."

Edward's birthdate on marker is Aug. 8, 1901 as given by Bertha; he died in Children's hospital from cardiac failure due to relapses of broncho-pneumonia.

Charles Clarence was adopted by his aunt, Mrs. Albert Corbett, of Medway, MA, his mother's sister, just three days after birth, when his mother died. The Corbetts raised him and he used name Charles Clarence Corbett (as stated by his sister Bertha).

Bertha McFarland, his sister, also sent the following:

"My father, George Clinton Tingley, was born in Bellingham, Mass. on Friday, the 13th, 1870, and a day never to be forgotten by him and his children. Ill luck followed George C. Tingley all his life. His mother, Mary Adams, died in 1876 according to cemetery records in No. Franklin. At 6 years of age he went to live with his grandfather Charles Wilkinson Tingley in Bellingham, Mass. When, at the age of eighteen he met with a train accident and was hurt quite badly.

"It was when I was two years old that he became a cripple for the rest of his life, in which he was unable to do for himself or his family. He had gone to a distant wood lot twelve miles from the homestead in Wrentham, Mass., to draw out a large load of timber. This was in early spring. With a large load of timber, loaded, he started up a slope, the ground gave way and the horses, frightened, broke loose. The load of timber fell on him. When the horses ran back to the homestead, 12 miles distant, my mother and hired man rushed by horse as fast as the team could go to Wrentham, Mass.

"They had to unload the timber to get to him, thus it was six hours before he was gotten out. He laid for six months in the hospital but never had the use of his legs or hands again -- a young man of thirty and six years. Later, his wife, our mother, died at the age of thirty-nine, leaving five small children - the youngest only three days old, the oldest 8 years only, and left without help he had no other choice than to see his children given out to homes.

"He lived to be seventy-five, a cruel destiny, for one who was born on Friday, the 13th, 1870. Not only did he suffer, but his children, left without father or mother, also suffered from the curse of Friday the 13th. May it never fall on any of ours again. His death was July 22, 1945, Putnam, CT, buried in Prospect Hill cemetery, Millis, MA where also is the resting place of Elizabeth Louise Tingley, wife and mother, who died Nov. 3, 1903 at Millis, MA, first snowfall of that year.

"George C. Tingley was an appraiser of timber lots, having learned it from his forefathers before his accident. He set up the machinery for the saw mills."

And as reported by Bertha, a daughter: "I would also like to add that Dr. Benjamin Wilson Tingley, the herb doctor and school teacher saved my mother's life after a terrible accident during a very severe winter. There came a thaw in February, and in those days there were no snow plows. They rolled the snow down with large weighted wooden rollers. She worked in the straw hat shop in Medfield, MA, a distance of 8 miles from her homestead. On coming home from work in her sleigh, the road bed was opened up - a large hole under the rolled snow, the horse, rared up, broke the harness and she was thrown into the large hole filled with water. There was no way she could get out, nothing to cling to, to pull herself out. It gave way all the more each time she tried and with heavy winter clothing it was impossible without help. It became dark and when the horse got home, my grandmother (her mother), Mrs. Elvira Bullard, soon got neighborhood men together and they took lanterns along the long stretch of road. They found her there almost frozen. Then came the process of thawing out her stiffened body slowly. Dr. Benjamin came, as after a few days her body was covered with boils because the blood cells had been damaged by the terrible freeze. He stayed there three days and three nights, and steeped birch bark, and got her out of it after a lot of suffering. He also saved a cousin, Mrs. Mary Daniels of Mendon, MA, from diphtheria when she was 9 years old."

"From the quantity of mimeographed pages left in the box under my typewriter table, it appears that I sent very few of the letters I prepared in February 1970, with the addendum in June of that year. I am again hoping to renew contacts with so many of you whom I have known over the years and with whom I have lost touch through my own neglect of the art of correspondence.

"I will use these paragraphs now to bring the previous letter up to date:

"In the intervening time there have been several losses in the family: On January 1, 1971, my father died at the age of 94, and on May 31, 1973, mother followed him. She was 92. Both are buried in Algona, Iowa. On December 10, 1971, Florence's husband, Wilfred, died unexpectedly in California, the day after the death of my favorite Aunt Rowena, age 87, in North Providence, Rhode Island. And I believe it was in February 1970 that Wilfred's brother Harold had passed away suddenly in Oregon where he taught school. Five persons who had been on my Christmas gift list!

"I have had more interesting trips: Baptist World Alliance Executive Committee meetings have been in Nova Scotia in 1971, Jamaica 1972, and Switzerland 1973. Following the meetings in Einsiedeln, Switzerland, I spent two weeks traveling by train in that country: Zurich, Lugano, Zermatt, Geneva, Berne, and Lucerne. Looking back, I am amazed that the whole trip went off with so few problems. Last Christmas I spent with Florence and her family in Van Nuys, California, and then attended the American Guild of Organists Midwinter Convention in Phoenix, Arizona. This past October I went to office meetings in Portland, Oregon, and then with Florence visited Ruby and her husband, Clayton Lundy, in Auburn, California, where they have moved from their more isolated spot in Garden Valley. Florence and I then visited four Baptist retirement centers in California (we had looked over two the December before), after which I went on alone for two days in Yosemite. I am now looking forward to the Organists Midwinter conclave in Florida, December 26-29.

"Florence and her younger daughter, Marilyn, were in Washington briefly in the summer of 1972, and now I am expecting Marilyn again and a friend the second week in January, on their way to a conference in Pennsylvania. Marilyn is in her first year at the American Baptist Seminary of the West in Covina, California. The older daughter, Elaine, has been married over a year to a navy man, Curtis Dryer, and is living at present in Hawaii!

"I am still working, but expecting to retire in October 1975. A new Associate Secretary was hired in our office in 1971, Rev. Theophilus Patnaik of India, and I have been his secretary for the past year and a half. Our big job right now is preparing for the 8th Baptist Youth World Conference, to be held in Portland, Oregon, July 31 - August 4, 1974. We have been expecting 10,000 delegates from around the world, but the energy crisis is causing considerable alarm right now.

"Other activities: Almost steady employment this past year as a substitute organist in various churches; secretary for the past three years of the D.C. Chapter of the American Guild of Organists; treasurer (a terrific job) for two years, and now completing my two-year term as a director, of the Washington Branch of the American Association of University Women; still treasurer of the Big Sisters of D. C., which is enjoying a new spurt of energy; chaplain, then secretary, and now vice-regent of my D. A. R. chapter; and I am now preparing my papers for the Daughters of the Colonial Wars. In 1970 I finally transferred my Eastern Star membership from Glen Ellyn, Illinois, to Trinity Chapter No. 33 in D. C. For two years I served as a star point, and then was elected Associate Conductress, which means I am a 'line officer'. The work here is quite different than that in Illinois.

"My life is really too full of activity, I admit, but I do hope that during the coming year I will follow through on my present resolve to take up letter writing again. Although my retirement is still almost two years away, I am beginning now to change my mailing address from the office to my apartment.

"Best wishes to you all, and may you feel God's love and strength, as I have these past years.

"Surprise! After all these weeks, months, or years of silence, I am writing to let you know of my change of address. On April 1, 1978, I moved to Thomas House, a Baptist retirement center 'for independent living.' As many of you know, I was planning to move to California in 1980 to one of the Baptist centers there. In fact, my sister Florence (now in Van Nuys, CA) and I had spent part of three summer vacations visiting all of those centers and deciding on which appealed most to us.

"However, at just the right time for me, the Baptists of the District of Columbia had purchased a large apartment building on the edge of the downtown area and were converting it to a retirement center of the same sort as those which I had visited in California. I felt that I was not yet ready to move to California and realized how much I like Washington, knowing the city and its transportation so well, and enjoying my many activities here. I went for an interview at Thomas House and in December picked out the apartment I wished. As I had to move my rather large organ, I chose one of the deluxe sizes where the organ does not create any difficulty spacewise. I moved in on April 1, and spent most of that month running around pricing furniture.

"Very unexpectedly, the first week in May I was asked to come back to the Baptist World Alliance (I had retired the end of 1975) to help the staff prepare for the annual meeting being held last summer in Manila, the Philippines, and then to remain in the office while the entire staff was overseas. I thought my job would be over upon their return, but I am still working, although I do not know how much longer I'll be among the employed.

"My organ work has kept me very busy, also. I am listed for substitute work in the roster of the local chapter of the American Guild of Organists. This past year I had organ jobs every Sunday from the week before Christmas through Labor Day!

"I am very glad that circumstances forced this early decision so that I can continue living in this city which offers so much of interest and satisfaction. I hope you all are equally pleased with your present situations. The best of 1979 to you, and God's blessing on your enterprises.

Love, Rowena

From the Providence Evening Bulletin --

Ruth was a well-known historian and collector of Colonial antiques.

For many years she was active in patriotic organizations, historical societies and philanthropic and church activities. She was a descendant of one of the passengers on the Mayflower.

Persons often traveled from distant states to view the large collection of Colonial antiques on view in the Daggett House, considered to be the oldest house in Pawtucket. Ruth played an important role in its restoration and was instrumental in reopening this house to the public on Sunday afternoons during the summer.

She helped restore the interior of the house, which dates from 1685, often donating antiques from her large collection.

A past regent of the Pawtucket chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, she was a member of the Colonial Daughters of the American Revolution and the Daughters of the Founders and Patriots of America.

She was a treasurer and lifelong member of the former Embury Methodist church in Central Falls, and was given the honor of cutting the cake at the last service in the church earlier in 1968.

She was clerk of the District Court in Central Falls when her brother, the late Roscoe Dexter, was Judge.

She graduated from Central Falls High School and Pembroke College, Class of 1909. She served as a director of the Pawtucket chapter, American Red Cross, and a trustee of the Methodist Health and Welfare Services of the Southern New England Conference of the United Methodist church. She was a charter member of the Blackstone Valley Historical Society and was its recording secretary at the time of her death."

Concerning information on James Gordon Wells, Roxy sent the following: "Legally separated in 1954. To my knowledge his mother had no contact either. I would have known. We were very close. She was a wonderful mother and 'Nana' to me and the children. As Elizabeth said when she died: 'She was our other parent.' We loved her and miss her. 'Nana' had very few relatives left, but friends!! So many came to her funeral from all over the maritimes. All much younger in actual years but she was never any older. I guess that is why we thought she would always be there."

"When Emma Harris, a sister to Glen's mother came up from Susquehanna and became aware of Stella's tremendous responsibilities she volunteered to reduce the load and took Glen home to stay until the load lessened. It seems that situation was never remedied and Glen never returned home. When he started to school he went by the name Harris, doing so until a time in which he had to prove his age. Having a difficult problem imposed on him and most impossible, I understand he had to go to court to prove his age. At this time he went through the legal proceedings of having the name changed from Bosket to Harris. This was done between 1948 and 1951 and would be filed either in Delhi or Binghamton, NY."[676]

09-00128-03 JOHN WILLIAM LUTZ[10] (Emeline[9], Daniel[8], Cyril[7], Luse[6], Hannah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), of Olyphant, PA (Rural), born May 16, 1864 at Scott Twp., PA; died Apr. 5, 1948 at Scott Twp., PA, heart condition; married Sep. 7, 1884 at Peckville, PA, Dora Maud, daughter of Sylvanus and Suckey Ann (Berry) Smith, of Peckville, PA, born Oct. 22, 1862 at Scott Twp., PA; died Apr. 4, 1936 at

Scott Twp., PA, stroke; both are buried in Scott Valley Cemetery, Montdale, PA. John was a farmer[201].

Children[201]

05 Henry Howard, b. Mar. 25, 1896, Peckville, PA; d. ; unm.
06 Cynthia Julia, b. Aug. 17, 1903; 11-00244.

Henry Howard is buried in Scott Valley Cemetery, Montdale, PA.

The following items were sent by a granddaughter of John William Lutz, Elsie Martin Hendrycy, about her grandfather, saying they are true happenings:

"When my grandfather, John W. Lutz, was a young lad of about 16-18 he went to Towanda, PA to live with his uncle, John Carpenter. John Carpenter gave him some land on which he built a one room cabin and farmed the land, raising sheep and hogs. In the winter he worked for a trapper, going into the woods with a team of oxen and bringing out the deer, wildcats, etc., that was too heavy for the old trapper to carry or drag out. One time he told grandfather to bring out a cinnamon bear. It was the only cinnamon bear ever to be found in that part of the country (I believe it was Sullivan County, PA). It is now in the Washington, D.C. Museum. If you write to the Washington, D.C. Museum, I am sure they can tell you the trapper's name and more about the bear.

"The trapper told grandfather, when he put his gun to his shoulder to shoot the bear, it stood on its hind legs and put its front paws over its face. At the time people of Towanda thought it might of got loose from a circus or someone might of had him as a pet.

"I also remember him telling about driving about 200 head of hogs from Peckville to Towanda, and how they ate beechnuts, roots, berries, etc. as they went, it took him a good many days to get them there.

"Mother just reminded me that 7 Lutz brothers came from Germany, one of whom was Henry, and settled in Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, PA. Henry had a logging business and use to send them down the Susquehanna River to Wilkes-Barre. It is my understanding if Henry had lived (a log hit him in the chest, he got pneumonia and died), he would of been the owner of some of the coal lands in Scranton. (About the land I am not sure, it would have to be checked)."

When grandfathers tell their grandchildren tales about their childhood they always add to them to make the tales more exciting. Thus stories or tales repeated by children or grandchildren should always be accepted for what they are worth as a child heard and remembers them as truths. Here Elsie's uncle had read what Elsie, his father's granddaughter, had written as she remembers it and thus her Uncle Jasper Claude declares it was otherwise as everyone can see. Which is correct is for the reader to guess or decide by checking an atlas. Remember! the uncle is now also a grandfather.

"I am the oldest living son of John and Dora Lutz.

"When John W. Lutz was a boy [this is as Jasper Claude remembers what his father told him when he was a child] he used to go to live with his Uncle John Carpenter, who was his mother's (Emeline Carpenter) brother.

"He did not live in a cabin, he stayed with his uncle, it was not Towanda. It was near Marion in Sullivan County. His uncle's house was partly in Sullivan County and partly in Wyoming County.

"When John grew older he bought some land near his Uncle's place. I used to visit at his Uncles with dad and mother. His other uncle, William, from whom dad got his middle name, came from the place where Uncle John lived. As the place grew and had a store and blacksmith shop, the people of the town offered $5 for the best name for their town. My father sent in the name 'Ellenton' which they picked so that is where dad and his Uncle William Carpenter drove the hogs from to Scranton. In the winter when the snow was deep they drove an ox team ahead of the hogs, loaded up on grain at the feed mills as they passed through small towns, to feed the 500 head of hogs.

"In the woods around Ellenton the hogs ran in the woods and got fat on beach nuts, acorns, and such."

"The part about hauling out deer, bear, and such she has right. If the trapper did not come out or if they did not hear from him, dad would go in to see him and last time, found him sick in bed. He was brought out but died."

"Dad's grandfather came with his brothers as she said. His grandfather, Henry, bought acres of land where Green Ridge now stands, before coal was discovered.

"He, Henry, went into the logging business. In the spring when the water was high in the Lackawanny River, he rafted logs down that river to the Susquehanna and on into Williamsport to the sawmills. He got hit bad in the ribs with a pipe pole but went on through, came back and died shortly after.

"He, Henry, would have owned acres of the richest coal land in Lackawanna County."

Stroudsburg, PA, born Mar. 17, 1889 at E. Stroudsburg, PA; she remarried Judge Fred Davis of E. Stroudsburg, PA and resided on No. Courtland St., E. Stroudsburg, PA. She supplied the data on the family. Clair W. Pelton was Principal of School No. 1, Paterson, NJ.

As given by daughter, Marion Louise: "My true paternal grandmother died when my daddy was growing up. My grandfather Pelton married his sister-in-law Adelaide (my daddy's aunt). Adelaide was the only paternal grandmother (step-grandmother) I knew.

"As my own father died in 1918 my mother took Jeanne and me to live with her parents - the Allison Kistlers. We grew up in their large house. Jeanne was 6 and I was 8 - so we knew my mother's parents very well.

"My mother died Feb. 15, 1977 in East Stroudsburg, PA at age 87 yrs. just one month short of her 88th birthday. She is buried in the Stroudsburg Cemetery next to my father Clair Walker Pelton. (Judge Davis is still living, in 1978, and working steadily - truly a remarkable & wonderful man. My sister and I love him so very much.)"

"We have seen a grand man cross the horizon and into the distances beyond. But we are not alone. He has left in our keeping those countless virtues which he held dear and we shall cherish them. Their nearness will keep us mindful of Tennyson's words, 'God's fingers touched him and he sleeps.' Yes, he sleeps, and as he would have wished it, his remains rest on the slope of a verdant hill which overlooks Belle Isle Lake and the power plant. A. A. Brown loved his work and all symbolic of it."[216] He was Vice President - Oklahoma Gas & Electric Co. (34 years service.)

The following article by Peter Moon, from the Toronto Star by permission of the Toronto Star Syndicate:

THE LONG HARD HUNT AND THE QUICK EASY KILL

Through the old brass telescope, the bear is just a small white spot, a hint of movement far off across the Arctic ice. The Eskimo guide watches it for a long time. Then he passes the word to the two white hunters and they smile at each other. This, at last, is their moment.

"Yes," says the Eskimo slowly, "it is a polar bear. About a mile to a mile and a half away. Too far to tell how big."

The hunters beam. This is why they will end up spending $2,903.55 each. This is why they have come all the way from their homes in Amherst, Nova Scotia to the isolation of Resolute Bay, 640 miles above the Arctic Circle.

They have been travelling by dog team for two days now and this is an instant of almost painful excitement; it is what they have talked about and dreamed of and hoped for - they are about to kill a polar bear.

The hunters are Willard Tingley, a 75-year-old tombstone manufacturer, and John Douglas, 36, an independently wealthy man who inherited money from his grandfather, a Nova Scotian surgeon. Tingley and Douglas are two of six sportsmen who have been sold permits to hunt polar bears in the Northwest Territories this year. It is the first time this has been allowed in Canada for more than half a century.

Now they are about to get their first bear.

While Tingley and Douglas nervously watch, the Eskimos quickly unload the two 15-foot komatiks, each of which is pulled by a dozen huskies. The guides dump all the equipment and supplies on to the ground (three inches of snow on top of four feet of sea ice). They leave only Caribou hides and the hunters' rifles on the komatiks. They tell us to hold on and the chase begins.

Our komatik leaps forward as the dogs strain at the leads, the Eskimo named Ooingoot lashing them with a 30-foot sealskin whip. I am on Ooingoot's komatik with the younger hunter, Douglas. Tingley is on the second komatik with two other Eskimos, Andrew Atagotaluk and the senior guide, also called Andrew and dubbed Andrew Senior by the two white hunters to avoid confusion.

Photographer Barry Ranford is on a snowmobile, driven by one of the Eskimo guides, so he can keep up with the action. But we must obey the game laws of the Northwest Territories which stipulate that polar bear hunting must be done by dog team.

Our komatik lurches and jumps and bounces as we race around and over boulder-size lumps of ice. Our Eskimo guide keeps turning to us with a happy grin and pointing with his whip as he shouts: "Nanook, nanook." But we can't see the bear; we are all too busy hanging on to the bumping komatik. All we can see are bigger and bigger pressure ridges coming up; in the excitement, each one looks like a distant polar bear.

After about 15 minutes, Douglas shouts: "I can see it, I can see it. Look at it, look at that bear go. We'll never catch it."

Our Eskimo guide, kneeling and swaying expertly at the front of the komatik, pulls two dogs back toward him, leans forward and unhitches the lines that attach them to the sled. The two dogs race ahead, leaving us behind, and they begin to gain rapidly on the bear. We are well ahead of the second komatik carrying Tingley, the older hunter.

Douglas almost yelps in his excitement: "My God, what a ride. This is the way man was meant to live, not in cities. Look at those dogs go. Go get him, boy!"

The bear, which cannot run fast for very long, is tiring rapidly and is lumbering with difficulty when the two dogs catch up with him. The bear whirls to defend himself and the dogs, working together, worry him. As one dog jumps clear to avoid the teeth and claws the second runs in to nip the bear from behind.

Suddenly, we are almost on top of the harried bear. Ooingoot, our guide, releases a hitch and the remaining ten dogs join the attack. We roll off the dogless komatik and Douglas grabs his carefully polished, walnut-stocked 30.06 Winchester. The bear is less than 50 feet away. He charges out of the circle of dogs straight toward us.

All you have time to see are a huge set of fangs in a gaping mouth and tiny eyes that seem to be looking right into yours. You no longer feel cold or hungry or excited; there is only the hollow feeling of terror in your stomach.

We scatter in panic and the bear is only 20 feet away when the dogs save us. They move faster than the bear and are upon him again. The bear veers and runs up on to a high point of pressure ice to get above the circling dogs. There he stands at bay.

The panting bear, gasping out white puffs of air, thirstily scoops up mouthfuls of snow and faces the dogs. He could kill off the dogs one by one. And do it with ease. But the dogs worry him into confusion and he stays in one position - an easy target.

The second komatik comes up. The two Andrews tumble off it and pull Tingley off with them. Fifty feet from the doomed bear, the two white hunters and the Eskimos talk. The conversation sounds unreal; it is relaxed, formally polite.

"Who is going to kill the bear?" asks an Eskimo.

"John, I think you should take him," says Tingley.

"No, no, Willard, he's yours - he's not big enough for me," says Douglas, who is genuinely concerned that his friend, who is almost ill with the cold, may not be able to hold out long enough to get a chance at another polar bear. Douglas also knows he may not get another chance himself, but he insists: "No, you take him and you can go back and get out of this cold. He'll look big back home in Amherst and there's not many 75-year-old men can say they've got a polar bear of any size. You take him."

"Well now, that's very sporting of you, John, very sporting. If you're sure you don't want him I will take him. Where's my rifle?"

An Eskimo hands Tingley his gun. He drops to one knee, aims, and from 50 feet sends a .357 magnum bullet crashing into the bear's rear end. The bear collapses and tumbles down the ice ridge under a swarm of dogs. He appears to be dead. But suddenly the dogs are jumping clear, the bear is on his feet and charging for what he thinks is safety on a nearby ice ridge, running within 15 feet of an astonished Tingley, who is still down on one knee, his gun to his shoulder.

"Quick," says Andrew Atagotaluk, "kill him before he kills any of the dogs."

Tingley's second shot hits the wounded bear in the throat and kills him instantly. The bear is dead 45 minutes after he was first sighted. The chase has covered four miles.

A grin of delight spreads over Tingley's frostbitten face. He walks over to the 350-pound bear, which is about six feet in length, kicks the carcass affectionately, and says: "He's a little bastard, isn't he, boys? But he'll look big in Amherst, won't he, John?"

Later, after we have made camp and are warm in the double-layered tent, Tingley loudly toasts his kill with vodka-spiked tea, while Douglas, who is clearly upset, talks quietly to me: "I've never seen anything like that before. People down south see that and they'd call it cold blooded slaughter. I've never killed an animal that didn't have a chance to get away and that bear never had a chance. I feel sick."

Douglas has devoted much of the last ten years to hunting. As a boy, he spent so many hours firing guns in the basement of his parents' home that he is now hard of hearing. His basement trophy room contains, among other game, antelope, Dall sheep, big-horn ram, grizzly and black bear, mule and white-tail deer, cougar, moose, elk, mountain goat, caribou, wolf, lynx, wolverine and coyote.

The next day, Tingley returns to Resolute on the snowmobile while the two dog teams and Douglas continue the hunt. Douglas is in good spirits and highly optimistic.

But a day later, he is sick, cold and tired. He has a sore throat from the Coleman stove fumes (the tent is not properly ventilated) and a worsening cold. He had recovered from pneumonia only a month before arriving in Resolute. Now, after hours of unrelenting exposure to below-zero temperatures, his nose is frostbitten, and he is having trouble preventing the same thing from happening to his fingers and toes.

Polar bear hunting is one of the toughest big game hunts in the world. You hunt by night, when the bears are awake and searching for seals. In the 24-hour daylight, the sun is low on the horizon at night and the bear's yellow-tinged white fur is easier to spot against the snow. Except for the final chase, the hunt consists of sitting for hour after frigid hour on a komatik behind a dozen foul-smelling dogs. You wriggle your toes and bang your feet together until the pain from the cold eases. When the Eskimo guides stop to "scope" the area for bear, you can stamp your feet and swing your arms.

Occasionally, but not often, the Eskimos stop and build a wind-break of snow for you and make tea on a Coleman stove. You gulp down the tea while gnawing on frozen bannock, a kind of bread made from flour, salt, baking powder, lard and water.

"I've never felt so cold in my life," Douglas says during one tea stop. As he watches the Eskimos melt snow on the hissing Coleman, he says: "I never thought it would be like this. I figured there'd be a base camp which you'd fly into or get to by Ski-doo. I didn't know it was all going to be by dogteam. I think this would be too tough for the average hunter."

On the fourth night, Douglas has high hopes of getting a 1,000-pound polar bear. Ooingoot spots the bear's huge, dinner-plate-sized tracks. He knows they are only a few hours old by their softness and the lack of drifted snow on them. We dump our gear from the komatiks and begin tracking them. But the bear, travelling in an almost straight line, goes into a mass of pressure ridges.

And they're really rough. Hugh sections of ice are thrown up under pressure - some get as high as a two story house and weigh several tons. It becomes so bad that we give up trying to follow the bear's undeviating track and detour through easier ice. Ten miles later we come out of the big ridges on to open sea again. Two dogs have severe cuts in their feet, both komatiks have smashed cross-slats, and dogs, Eskimos and Douglas are all exhausted.

We return to our abandoned equipment, make camp, eat supper and get into our bags to sleep. It is 7:30 in the morning. And Douglas is a very disappointed, exhausted and sick man. He is so feverish later in the day that when the Eskimos wake him and want to break camp, he almost decides not to travel. But in the end he forces himself to go on.

By this time Andrew Senior has rejoined us with the snowmobile. A snowmobile would not normally be along on a polar bear hunt; its use is forbidden under the territorial government's game laws. We had one on this particular hunt so we could provide fast transportation for our photographer. But because the machine was available, and because the Eskimos wanted to please the hunters, the snowmobile was used to help Douglas kill the second bear.

When we break camp at 6:30 p. m., the two dog teams set out in one direction while Andrew Senior goes off by himself in another on the snowmobile. He rejoins us at 9 p.m. when we stop for a tea break. He and the other two Eskimo guides hold an excited conversation. Then comes the news. Andrew Senior, off on the snowmobile, has seen fresh - very fresh - bear tracks seven miles away. We finish our tea hastily and set off. At 11:15 p.m. we find the tracks. They belong to a big bear and they are fresh.

"I'm going to get my bear tonight," says Douglas.

But within a mile the tracks go into very rough ice. And this time we have to negotiate it with loaded komatiks. The ordeal of the previous night begins again. Manhandling the komatiks over ice mounds. Whipping the dogs on. Chopping the trapped komatiks free with an axe. Tying the fallen supplies back on. Wincing at the pain as your leg smashes into an ice boulder.

Somehow, Ooingoot and Andrew Atagotaluk manage to keep the dogs on the bear's tracks. After three hours' tracking, convinced they are close, even though they cannot see very far because of the rugged ice, they release four dogs. The dogs race off and everyone watches them disappear with a sense of anticipation and excitement.

But 20 minutes later, the dogs come back. They have lost the trail. How far off is the bear? "I don't know," says Andrew Atagotaluk, "maybe he is a long way. This ice doesn't slow a big bear. But it does slow us."

At 4:30 a.m., having come through the worst of the rough ice, we come across a surprising sight: photographer Barry Ranford standing by himself next to the snowmobile's komatik. Andrew Senior, he tells us, has taken the snowmobile and driven around the rough ice and sighted the bear. He has dumped the komatik and Ranford and gone off to herd the bear back toward us, using the snowmobile.

Andrew Senior, Ranford says, has already caught up to the bear once and driven it back to this spot, but the bear ran off in another direction and Andrew is after it again.

"I'm going to get my bear, I'm going to get it," says Douglas, suddenly excited again. "Oh boy, after a chase like that, through that ice, and we're going to get him after all."

The Eskimos dump the supplies off the komatiks and set out after Andrew Senior's snowmobile track. Half an hour later, we hear the snowmobile's engine. Ooingoot climbs an ice pile and catches a glimpse of Andrew Senior about half a mile away. Fifteen minutes later we again see Andrew Senior on his snowmobile and he waves his arms toward us. The message is clear: the bear is being driven right up to us.

Suddenly, 100 yards in front of us, the bear emerges from behind a clump of big ice ridges. It is running slowly, obviously very tired. The dogs are on it in seconds and the bear cannot even manage a token run away from them. More dogs have been loosened, others are still attached to the abandoned komatiks. The bear manages a half run, half walk 250 yards from the point where we first see it. Then it sits on its haunches, its back to a big ice mound while the dogs face it in a half moon formation.

There is none of the thrill of the chase of Tingley's bear and, also unlike his bear, this big, eight-foot-long animal has no fight left in it. It has been chased for more than an hour by an Eskimo on a snowmobile.

Douglas is almost beside himself. "Oh, Jesus, isn't that an animal. What a bear. Look at the size of it. Andrew, Andrew, if I shoot it in the head will it damage it very much if the bullet goes through? Shoot it in the shoulder? Right, right."

The bear, a beautiful looking creature, is still sitting on its haunches, scooping up mouthfuls of snow, when Douglas, from 20 paces, shoots. The first bullet smashes the bear's shoulder, the second rips into its throat. The bear flops loosely to the snow, partially raises its great head once, then dies...

They were gone from Nova Scotia fourteen days. During that hunt they sat through one of the Arctic's greatest hazards if caught without shelter, the dreaded "whiteout" or drifting snow whipped up by high piercing winds, but the physical discomfort was frozen and peeled noses. A painful enough experience if nothing can be done to relieve the condition immediately.

They slept in tents in temperatures averaging 39 degrees below zero. They experienced nearly constant coldness and had to jump off the sled and run beside it very often just to keep their feet from freezing. NO more arctic trips for them. "We've tried it and enjoyed it. Let someone else go if they want to."

To travel in Canada's Arctic Territory, one risks the chance of freezing to death, getting caught in one of the Arctic's "Whiteouts" or being lost in a place where compasses are worthless, just for the chance of bagging one of the great white polar bears which inhabit the Northland, is it worth it?

He was also a member of the Lion's Club, The Holy Name Society and was first secretary of the Grand Falls Fish and Game Club. Also former member of Grand Falls Library, Historical Society and Golden Age Club.

"Hunting, baseball, hockey, fishing and boating were his hobbies. As a member of the Local Grand Falls Baseball Team (shortstop) and the Grand Falls Hockey Team (left wing), he toured the local circuit. He also loved hunting, fishing, and boating.

"During World War II he was the local representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and secretary of the Ration Board.

"He was also an insurance agent for the Douglas Rogers Insurance Company for many years.

"In 1945, he brought together musicians from Grand Falls, Van Buren, St. Leonard and Edmundston and formed the Grand Falls Band. Under his leadership, this new band entertained at baseball games at Veterans Field, Grand Falls, played in parades at Van Buren's July 4 celebrations, held concerts on Broadway in Grand Falls and paraded at festivities in many towns and cities including Woodstock, Fredericton, and Fort Kent, ME, and Edmundston and Comeau, Que.

"Throughout these busy years, he did not neglect his duties as a husband and father, and in 1946, with his wife's encouragement and the help of his son-in-law, Donat, and his son Kenneth, the first edition of the Grand Falls Gazette was published. This newspaper continued until 1948 when it was discontinued because of a lack of modern equipment for newspaper work.

"His dream of a weekly newspaper did not end, however, and in 1952 an addition was built to the existing plant, new equipment was installed and with his entire family on staff the first edition of today's The Cataract Weekly rolled from the presses.

"In 1963, at age 65, the Mayor and Council of the day requested that he remain in his position as Town Clerk for a few more years. This he agreed to do, and on Nov. 30, 1969, with 35 years service, he finally retired from municipal affairs.

"A retirement banquet was held in his honor and Mayor Everard H. Daigle praised him for his long and faithful service. Former Mayor Theodore E. Duffie delivered a forceful address stressing the need for recognition of a man who gave nearly half his lifetime to the service of the Town of Grand Falls.

"He remained active, however, and worked in the family business, now managed by his son Richard, until a few months before his death.

"Sperry James Merritt was laid to rest last week in this community he had lived and served so well for more than 50 years.

"S. J. Merritt was respected by all who knew him during his 35 years of devoted service as town clerk of the Municipality of Grand Falls. From 1936 to 1956 he also served as secretary-treasurer of School District No. 7.

"In 1923, Mr. Merritt founded the Merritt Press Ltd., and served as its president until his death.

"An era closed both at this newspaper and throughout the Town of Grand Falls last week when Sperry James Merritt, his life's work complete, walked into history.

"What should be noted is, that he sought always to serve the community without seeking out the spotlight of personal glory.

"There was scarcely a civic or other event of any consequence in the town over the past half-century that did not have S. J. Merritt as a participant. Outside his family, which always came first, he was always there to add his experience and wisdom to the proceedings.

"Perhaps the real love of his business life, however, was The Cataract Weekly, which he founded in 1952 after an earlier endeavor, the Grand Falls Gazette, had ceased publication due to lack of equipment suitable for putting out a newspaper.

"With the Gazette, he wasn't quite ready; with The Cataract, he was, and the newspaper today has fully justified his confidence, modernizing with new equipment to meet the times and becoming a stable and respected corporate citizen of Grand Falls.

"Long after his retirement from the municipality, he was active in his capacity as president of Merritt Press Limited, of which The Cataract is a subsidiary. And his keen mind was there to offer wise counsel when difficulties cropped up. And there were many.

"Sperry James Merritt was a credit to his family, community, province and country, and with his sense of complete dedication to all of these left a rich legacy to those who are following him. Dolores was and is treasurer of The Merritt Press Ltd. Richard is now president and manager. But as husband, father and business manager, Sperry James Merritt is greatly missed."[691]

Dolores lives at 210 Main St., Grand Falls, N. B. (P. O. Box 1080)

Vernon, WA 98273, born June 8, 1918 at Fir, WA; married Jan. 15, 1944 by O. E. Heimdahl at Conway[193], Marie Pauline, daughter of Peder Andrew and Gerda Mathilda (Folkasta) Pederson, of Big Lake, WA, born Oct. 31, 1925 at Mt. Vernon, WA. Millard is an operating and logging engineer. "He was also a diver. He started the operation of diving for logs in the bottom of several lakes around Skagit County. In the early 1900's logs were dumped into the lakes, then brought to the mill site and sawed into lumber. However lots of hemlock logs would sink. In 1947 Millard started the operation of diving for these well preserved logs. He still claims there are lots of logs in the bottom of these lakes.

"Millard bought the Roto-Rooter Sewer and Drain Cleaning franchise in 1964. He owned and operated this business until his retirement in May 1977. He has hosted two Northwestern T-U Reunions and in 1978 the International Reunion. At times Millard appears to have a quick temper, but it is followed by lots of laughter."

09-00302-01 WILLIAM GARFIELD TINGLEY[10] (Stephen[9], Joshua[8], William[7], Josiah[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), of Walden Breezes, Concord, MA, born Jan. 2, 1888 at Cape North, Cape Breton, N.S.; died Mar. 2, 1974 at Bolton Nursing Home, buried in Littleton, MA; married June 23, 1910 by Rev. D.F. Sheedy at Attleboro, MA[345], Elizabeth Ellen, daughter of William E. and Margaret (Currie) Pollard, of Providence, RI, born July 9, 1886 at Providence, RI, will be buried beside her husband; no children.

As Elizabeth does most every afternoon, she sits in her love seat under the patio awning, swinging back and forth, recalling old memories and caressing each one as if handling delicate china.

In the distance, there are shouts and laughter as young children run over pine needles and dive into the cool water of Walden Pond. Elizabeth Tingley cannot hear them as she is stone deaf. She therefore takes her memories neat, in warm silence. Elizabeth Tingley says, "On our farm which was high on a hill with mountains all around - it was so beautiful. In the moonlight, we could see almost every tree..."

There are a million and one things going through her mind. She says, "I go over all my life, thinking about all my old friends and especially my old boyfriends. They are all gone now except one old chum who is in Florida...

"I don't know where all those years have gone as they slip by so fast. The other day I tried to look back but ninety-one years are a lot of years to think back."

With that Elizabeth again turned her attention back to the passing parade.

She remarked that her blood pressure goes up in December and January because she gets awfully depressed. It is so lonely at that time but with her color TV she watches the Red Sox until she gets so mad that she has to turn it off. Elizabeth resides in Walden Breezes at 801 Walden St., Concord, MA 01742.

09-00328-02 SAMUEL ERNEST TROOP[10] (Amos[9], Samuel[8], Josiah[7], Levina[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), of Midgic Station, N.B., born Dec. 12, 1872 at Midgic, N.B.; died Nov. 30, 1965 in Sackville Memorial Hosp.[216]; married May 6, 1896 at Amherst, N. S., Nada, daughter of Melbourne and Elizabeth (Hicks) Sears, of Midgic, N.B., born , 1878 at Midgic, N. B.; died June 28, 1930 at Midgic, N. B.; both are buried in family plot, Midgic Cemetery, Midgic, N.B. Samuel Ernest dropped the "H" from his name. A funeral service was held by members of the Knights of Pythias. He was a C.N.R. section man, retired 1937, and was a farmer.

His granddaughter, Lorraine Slighter, tells the following which her grandfather had told about "his grandfather, Sam Throop, whose record in Volume I is 08-00166, page 271. This may account for the information being so incomplete in our records -- about his grandfather Sam who lived in Midgic, N.B. There was an argument with a neighbor over fencing. Sam knocked the neighbor down and thought that he killed him, so he went over the back marsh to Ichabod's (Ichabod Throop). Ichabod took him through to Shediac where he got a boat to New York. Amos, Lorraine's grandfather's father, was born just after his father, Samuel, left for New York. So - every time I think of this I wonder just where and when that man settled."

From other sources, it has been told that man knocked down was Jones, who did not die. But, what became of Sam Throop is the big question.

B. hospital; both are buried in Fair Haven Memorial Gardens Cemetery, Moncton, N.B.; he was a retired farmer[201], a member of the International Order of Foresters[216], both were members of the Salisbury Baptist Church[232].

"Bessie had decided to sell her little home in Salisbury, N.B., as she was not able to live alone. Her husband predeceased her in 1971 after a happy married life of over 60 years together. She was over 84 years of age and last surviving member of her immediate family. She was an ardent gardener and many will remember her beautiful flowers and her 'green thumb'."

09-00372-02 WILLIAM STEVEN TINGLEY[10] (William[9], Josiah[8], Daniel[7], Daniel[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), of Forest Lake, MN, born Jan. 26, 1881 at Oneka Twp., Washington Co., MN; died Dec. 3, 1977 in Linden Nursing Home, Stillwater, MN, myocardial infarction; married Oct. 12, 1904 at Stillwater, MN, Mary Josephine, daughter of John and Mary Josephine (Carpenter) Vadnais, of Hugo, MN, born Jan. 11, 1879 at Becker, Sherburne Co., MN; died Apr. 30, 1952 at Oneka Twp., Washington Co., MN, heart attack, both are buried in Fairview Cemetery, Stillwater, MN. "He was a retired farmer, born in a log cabin a few yards from where the present farm-house stands (latter built in 1880's).

"After his wife's death in 1952, his son Charles and wife, Ann Max, lived with him until Charles lost his life in a tragic tractor accident.

"Mr. & Mrs. Taylor Stricklin (daughter Eleanor), then bought the place. He lived with them until he was 95 years old.

"His entire life was lived in Washington Co., MN. He was active in town and school board positions.

"At one time his 'Elm Spring farm' contained 620 acres devoted chiefly to raising grain and beef cattle. In earlier years there was a dairy and butter making operation. It was known for miles around for its 500 tree apple orchard (planted by father, William James Tingley). It was also known for its excellent water furnished by its springs and flowing wells.

"As the minister, Rev. Phillip Pearson, so beautifully described him at the funeral service: 'He was a quiet man, a kindly man.'" (As sent by his daughter Agnes Jeans.)

Children[451]

01 Dorothy, b. Oct. 3, 1920, So. Easton, MA; d. May 18, 1924, Westmorland, WV, pleura pneumonia[272].

02 Marion Betty, b. June 15, 1925; 11-01093.

Dorothy is buried in Spring Hill, WV.

As supplied by his daughter, Betty: "My father, Herman Clide Fillmore, was born in Lumsden, Albert County, a small community (long since extinct) on the mountain north of the village of Albert in the Province of New Brunswick. His mother was Ada Bertha (Tingley) Fillmore and his paternal grandmother was Elizabeth Tingley of Waterside, N. B.; so that Herman was descended from Tingleys via both his mother and his father.

"His life encompassed a variety of experiences. He was an honest, down to earth individual with a never ending zest for knowledge. Mainly self-educated, his formal schooling having ended at the age of 14 years, Herman was a prodigious reader all his days.

"Together with a brother Leslie Howe, he boarded the harvest train for Saskatchewan in 1910. Remaining in the West until enlistment in the Canadian Army in 1916, they homesteaded both in Alberta and British Columbia. One winter was spent living in a tent in northern Alberta with record low temperatures. The first Calgary Stampede of 1912 found them in attendance. Attached to the Pioneers, an engineering unit, Herman was sent overseas in the spring of 1916. As a private, he served two years in France, then saw service in Palestine and Egypt. He was one of many to contract malaria while in the Middle East. Back in England, he married an English girl, Lilian Chapman in April, 1919.

"Returning to Canada on August 1919, they spent the winter with Herman's family in Sisson Ridge, N.B. The following year saw them on their way to the U. S. A. where they lived for 12 years. Norton, MA was the home base except for a year and a half engaged in seeing the country by car. The winter of 1923-24 found them living in a large tenting community in Tampa, FL. Tragedy struck in the death, by pneumonia, of their first born, Dorothy at 3 1/2 years of age in WV, April, 1924. They returned to Massachusetts for the birth of their second daughter in June, 1925.

"For the major part of his working life, Herman worked in the lumber woods in British Columbia, Massachusetts and New Brunswick. He was considered to be a fine woodsman. A rugged type of person, he was a champion of the underdog. He was active in the origin of the long shoreman's union in New Brunswick. As a common man he had great sympathy for their lot. He was outspoken. He held socialistic views in the early days, and like most of his neigbors, he was ever willing to lend a hand.

"After a span of twenty-four years, Herman with his family, in 1933 settled at Riverside, Albert County, a village adjacent to the place of his birth. From then on, he was a resident of New Brunswick for the remainder of his active days.

"His life was saddened by the sudden death of his wife, Lilian, in 1948. Herman continued to live, alone, in his then home in Penobsquis, N. B. With reading as a consuming pastime, he had acquired a fairly substantial library of books. Well read in history, he began to develop an interest and growing curiosity in his 'roots'. He corresponded with Fillmores and Tingleys in other parts of the Maritime Provinces and by degrees all across the North American continent. When he reached the age of retirement he began to visit churches, cemeteries, and archives, searching out information on the history of the Fillmore and Tingley families on this continent, carrying on an active correspondence at one time with over thirty 'cousins', as he liked to call them.

"His contacts led him to Mrs. Marian Frye of Virginia, a lady engaged in updating the genealogy of the Tingley Family, compiled by Raymon Tingley and published in 1910. The Canadian records as supplied to Raymon Tingley by Frank A. Tingley of Canada were no more complete than were the American records, a complete revision was necessary.

"Herman's research prompted him to the restoration of cemeteries, fallen into neglect, at least three in N. B. With the help of other cousins, he repaired and in some instances supplied inexpensive headstones for his forbears. The monuments and headstones of his father, grandfather and great grandfather at Waterside were built up, raised and repaired.

"Assisted by such competent people as Beatrice Bates of Houlton, ME, Abby Trueman and Annie Throop and others of Jolicure and Point de Bute, N.B. a Tingley Association was organized, called Tingleys United, in 1964. The first reunion was held in Sackville, N.B., Canada, in August of 1963, having been promoted by Herman, who called for the Tingleys to honor and celebrate the 200th anniversary of the coming of the Tingleys to Canada from Attleboro, MA in August 1763. Many of their descendants had returned to the U.S.A. and Marian Frye assisted in notifying them, having made contact with them. Reunions are held annually or bi-annually and include not only those of the Canadian branch but all Tingleys and Tingley descendants in Canada and the U.S.A.

"At the 1972 reunion, held in Houlton, ME, Herman Fillmore was honored as president emeritus with a plaque, as he had served as T-U's first president, until 1970 when it became apparent that the major stroke he suffered in April 1965, at age 72, was keeping him confined to a wheelchair, probably for the remainder of his life, despite his great determination and extensive therapy. Following two years in our home in Halifax, N. S., conditions necessitated that my father take up permanent residence in the Veteran's Hospital, Camp Hill, Halifax, N.S.

"If one were asked to tell that which one found most admirable about my father it would be to say 'for his integrity, strength of character and individuality'. His generation learned to cope with all situations in their society far better than is possible in today's technological age. Like Thoreau, Herman believed that each man hears a different tune. Each must march to his own drummer."

B., Margaret Grace, daughter of Albert and Flora (Terris) Munroe, of Springhill, N. S., born Sep. 24, probably 1890, at Springhill, N.S.; died Aug. 14, 1954 at Centreville, N. S., cancer; both are buried in the Elms Grove Cemetery, in Mill Village, N.S. They came to Nova Scotia in 1924, known to thousands of gardeners in the Maritimes and across Canada as "Mr. Green Thumbs". He came to Centreville to establish an ornamental plant nursery. He was very successful as indicated by a special publication of the Canadian Nursery Trades Association, in which they named him, 1967, as making a major contribution to the industry.

Mr. Fillmore was head gardener for the Dominion Atlantic Railway, from 1940 to 1954, with responsibility for maintaining railway gardens and parks, including Grand Pre Memorial Park situated between Yarmouth and Halifax.

In Central Siberia, at Kemerovo in 1924, he was an agronomist on a large state farm, having become a Socialist while still in his teens. This had led him to take a behind-the-scenes glimpse of Revolutionary Russia.

He had a life-long interest in politics and in 1945 ran unsuccessfully as a farmer-labor candidate in the Digby-Annapolis - Kings Riding in Nova Scotia.

During the early 1900's and for nearly half a century he contributed articles to various socialist publications throughout North America and was active as a union organizer, particularly in Nova Scotia's coal fields.

At Provincial Garden Clubs he was a frequent speaker and was author of four garden books, among which the highly successful book "Green Thumbs" was responsible for his nickname.

Although he retired from business in 1961, he continued to reside in the Annapolis Valley community until his death.

In Memoriam in 1973

"In loving memory of our dear mother, Sophia Shirley Tingley, who passed away July 4, 1972.

One sad and lonely year passed by,
Since our Great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day,
No one can ever tell.
God gave us strength to meet it,
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
Loved and sadly missed by Olive, Carmen, Deb, and Dan."

In Memoriam as published in 1977

"In loving memory of our dear mother Sophie Shirley Tingley, who passed away July 4th, 1972.

As angels keep their watch up there,
Please God just let her know,
That we down here do not forget,
We loved and miss her so.
Lovingly remembered by daughter
Audrey, Darryl, Cheryl, and Susan."

In 1973, Rev. William J. Tingley left the pastorate of the North Stamford Congregational Church to live in a religious community on Cape Cod which stresses obedience to authority, manual labor, prayer, self-denial and "Walking the way of the Cross".

The group with which the Tingleys were to live was called the Community of Jesus and is located at Orleans on the elbow of the Cape. The community is non-denominational and at that time had 75 permanent members. The two leaders of the community are middle-aged Episcopal lay-women, Mrs. Cay Anderson and Mrs. Judy Sorensen, who are described as "charismatic and anointed by the Holy Spirit to teach".

There are six privately-owned houses at the community, also a large dwelling known as the Bethany Retreat House and a Chapel. Anyone wishing to go shopping or do errands, first must get permission of the people who own the house in which they live. "You can't come and go as you please. The community stresses obedience to authority."

Children are separated from their parents and live in different houses, but on a typical weekday the children can play during the coffee hour when the whole community is free to chat and the children play. The men have work to do such as scrubbing floors, painting buildings, clearing brush and working in the community's produce garden. The women have household duties, such as cleaning, cooking, sewing, or whatever needs to be done.

Mr. Tingley was to be a "live-in" at the community, a grade different from that of a permanent member.

The chaplain of the community was the Rev. H. Arthur Lane Jr., who was rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Darien for five years until last year. Although the community is non-denominational, it was using the Episcopal prayer book and hymnal.

09-00517-01 RONALD EDWIN TINGLEY[10] (David[9], Miles[8], Samuel[7], Daniel[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), P. O. Box 66, Red Lake, Ont. P0V 2M0, born Oct. 24, 1916 at Hopewell Hill, N.B.; married first June 15, 1941 at Hudson, Ont., Catherine Mabel, daughter of James Richard and Norah Agnes (Howard) Long, of Riverside, N.B., born Nov. 22, 1915 at Riverside, Albert Co., N. B.; died Dec. 16, 1961 at Red Lake, Ont. Memorial Hosp., cancer, buried in Red Lake Cemetery, Red Lake, Ont.; she was a nursemaid; married second Aug. 14, 1965 at Red Lake, Ont., Katherine May, daughter of William Lawson Sey and Willimina Beattie (Davidson) Jessiman, of Morden, Man. Her father is a member of the House of Gordon, paying dues to their chief, the Marquess of Huntly, at Aboyne Castle, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. Her mother belongs to the Davidson clan. She was formerly Mrs. Katherine Milliken and has two children, William John and Eveline Dean (Milliken). Katherine is a member of the House of Gordon. No children by second marriage.

"Ronald is usually mentioned in stories of Red Lake because he was involved in freighting when this was still an isolated area, accessible only by plane and waterways, and winter tractor trains. He drove the first freight tractor over the new road (1946) that ended the isolation. He worked his way up from truck driver to manager, still with the same company.

"On Monday (Sep. 18) we had a phone call from Kampala, Uganda (Africa) where all the trouble is taking place lately. It was a spokesman for the Canadians there to tell us that Ronald's brother, Edgar Marshall Tingley, is okay so far - but they will get out if they can. Edgar is working for the Ugandan (army) gov't. which took over in a coup 18 months ago, before he went there. He is an engineer, part of a group on loan from the Canadian Gov't.

"My (Kay's) two children are both in university this fall (1972) so I expect to have more time for writing (I write for two weekly newspapers) and Board work (I am a member of the Board of Education here in Red Lake, Ont.), also University extension work - studying.

"I am still supply teaching (1975), but getting fed up with it, looking after extension courses and taking one myself; treasurer of our Public Library, trustee of our church, member of Advisory Board to School for Trainable Mentally Retarded, and member of International Women's Year Co-ordinating Council of N. W. Ont. Attended monthly meetings at Thunder Bay (380 miles away) and got involved in the 'Herstory' project which is the history of pioneer women of this area. So, since Sep. I have been taping interviews with the women who came here first - that means 1927 and since - so our pioneers are still here, and my job is easier than that of the women in some communities who must dig into newspaper files, journals, diaries, etc. to get the histories of their pioneers. We hope to publish a book within two years. I hope to be in on the writing end of it. (Due to mismanagement of funds in Thunder Bay, this book has not as yet (1980) materialized)."

09-00535-04 RAYMOND ERNEST TINGLEY[10] (George[9], Edward[8], David[7], Daniel[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), of Littleton, ME, born Dec. 31, 1905 at Littleton, ME; died Sep. 3, 1933 at Littleton, ME, killed in car accident; married Dec. 3, 1930 at Littleton, ME, Ethel Marjorie, daughter of Robert and Ethel Rosamond (Carmon) Rosborough, of McAdam, N.B., born at McAdam or Springfield,

N. B.; died Sep. 3, 1933 with her husband in same car accident. Raymond was a farmer. Probably both are buried at Littleton, ME. Marjorie was a nurse.

As stated by Raymond's sister, Louise Swenson, who was very close not only to Raymond but also to his wife Marjorie: "Their deaths were a terrible blow to me for we were the only close ones in the family at that time. We seemed to cling together more for some reason - where one was the other wasn't far behind whenever he took Marjorie to see her stepmother and her aunt and uncle. Her mother had died, leaving two little girls, Marjorie was very young and her father had remarried. Helen, Margaret's sister, had stayed with her stepmother but Marjorie was brought up by her aunt and uncle. When Raymond went to ask for Marjorie's hand in marriage I had to go too. Marjorie was a beautiful girl, was in training at the Aroostook General Hospital, Houlton, ME. We were always very close. After they died I wrote the following in the back of her training book. Since then there have been many heart aches - I still miss him terribly, but we can't live with the dead.

"This book belonged to E. Marjorie Rosborough of Springfield, N.B., who came to train as a nurse at Aroostook General Hospital, Houlton, ME in 1930. This book was purchased May 31, 1930. On Dec. 3, 1931 Marjorie became the wife of Raymond Ernest Tingley of Littleton, ME and died Sep. 3, 1933 along with her husband in an accident which occurred on North Road between Houlton and Littleton, ME. They had been married 2 yr. 9 mo. to the day she passed away at 4 A. M. She never regained consciousness. Her throat was cut to the vertebra and there was a tube inserted to her lungs for breathing. Raymond passed away at 4 P.M. also on that Sunday, a beautiful sunny day. A spoke from the steering wheel had gone through his lungs."

09-00535-05 LOUISE ESTHER TINGLEY-LOGAN-SWENSON[10] (George[9], Edward[8], David[7], Daniel[6], Josiah[5], Samuel[4], Samuel[3], Samuel[2], Palmer[1]), 2 Pierce St., Houlton, ME 04730, born Apr. 6, 1910 at Littleton, ME; married first Sep. 1, 1926 at Woodstock, N. B., Charles Edwin, son of Sargent and Isabel (Hill) Logan, born Sep. 1, 1901 at Eastport, ME; died July 15, 1939 at Presque Isle, ME, TB; married second June 4, 1944 at Woodstock, N.B., John August, son of Olaf and Segrid (Olson) Swenson, of Stockholm, ME, born Jan. 23, 1898 at Stockholm, ME; died Dec. 6, 1947 at Aroostook General Hosp., Houlton, ME, heart trouble, buried in Littleton, ME. Charles Logan was a laborer; John Swenson, a cabinet maker.

"The saddest thing to date which has happened in my life was that car accident which took the life of Raymond and Marjorie. My father and youngest sister were in the car with them. Neither of them expected to live. What a life each one has and it is wonderful that we do not know what is ahead of us. My dad was left a cripple in a wheel chair but fortunately mother was able to care for him with Walter's and my help until 1945. I moved them in with Johnnie and me. Johnnie also loved them both.

"Dad passed away in May 1946, my Johnnie Dec. 6, 1947 and my mother May 4, 1948, all within two years - but God gives us strength to bear these things. Mother and dad died in my home. I have stood by my oldest sister while her two husbands died and then Castine died, also Elnora and her husband last fall and Walter with his wife and two of his children, my aunt whom I cared for and a grandson. Now my worry is my youngest sister who was in that accident with our father. Her health has never been good since that accident. She wears a brace on her back and now the doctor says she should have at least two years out of a wheel chair where she has been for some time.

"I feel as though time may soothe or dim such things but it never really heals the loss we feel."

06-00042-01 MARY (POLLY) TINGLEY-POLLOCK was of Symmes Twp., Hamilton Co., and Miami Twp., Clermont Co., OH when Ezekiel applied for pension, born Jan. 7, 1796 probably in Somerset Co., NJ; died July 3, 1875, aged 79y 6m 2d at Cincinnati, OH; buried in Mt. Holly Congregational Church Cemetery at Milford, OH; married Mar. 23, 1813 at , Ezekiel, son of James and ( ) Pollock, of Carlisle, PA, born May 24, 1790 at Carlisle, PA; died June 22, 1879, aged 89y 28d at Cincinnati, OH; buried in Greenlawn Cemetery, Milford, OH, Clermont Co. Ezekiel was a farmer, served in war of 1812 as teamster until General Hull's surrender. Served from June 1812 until 1813. His claim was rejected because he was considered a civil employee and not a soldier. According to local history, John Cleves Symmes, a citizen of Trenton, NJ served in the Continental Congress. He contracted with the U.S. Treasury for a million acres of land in the Miami River area along the Ohio River where Cincinnati now stands for 66 cents an acre. He spent the greater part of the next year organizing parties of immigrants to settle on the land. Many came from NJ, PA, MD, and NY. He then persuaded the government to station some troops nearby. The soldiers were paid $3 per month.

From a history Cincinnati and Hamilton Co., OH, by S. B. Nelson Co., pub. in 1894, Pauline Allen Miller (a D. A. R. member) supplied the following:

"Ezekiel Pollock came with his parents in 1795 to Symmes Twp. settling on a tract of 300 acres which his father, James Pollock, had purchased from Judge Symmes. The first grist mill was on the Pollock property.

"On July 4, 1871 the bridge connecting Symmes Station and branch was completed. Ezekiel Pollock then in his 81st year was present at the celebration. At the time of his death 5 of the 7 children born to his union with Mary Tingley were living, -- Mrs. J.W. Baen, Hamilton, Ezekiel, Jr., James and John. The Pollock family was a distinguished one in the pioneer and later history of Hamilton and Clermont counties ... Ezekiel Pollock was evidently a church Elder. He performed many marriages in the county. His son-in-law, J. W. Baen also performed marriages."

Children[710]

01 Anne Gage, b. Mar. 11, 1893, N. Attleboro, MA; unm.;

Anne Gage lived in N. Attleboro, MA as a child, never married, served in American Red Cross in France during W.W. I, has led an active, varied and interesting life. Presently, in 1977, is a resident of the Wilhelm Nursing Home, 1507 South Tuttle Ave., Sarasota, FL 33579, and supplied corrections in this record. 10-00114, assigned to Anne, has been reassigned.

"As a little girl I remember riding with great Uncle George (from Kansas when he would visit grandpa Allen) to cemeteries where he knelt to read the data on overgrown county tombstones. I was so small I could never see over the rear of the horses. We did not live in North Attleboro until I was going to high school - just those four years. We had lived in the lovely New England town of Leicester. I went away after I graduated in June. Dad died that September.

"In 1958 I retired to Florida after 20 years as officer in the New York State Dept. of Correction. Before that I was Superintendent of a children's Home. We had children - my babies were 3-5 but I had 2 in College and some in High School. When I talked about them I was always introduced as 'The Spinster with a thousand children'. I still hear from them (1977). After I retired to Sarasota (1958) I became Historian for Sarasota Bay Republican Woman's Club -- compiled 14 Annual Press Books which won awards. I have had a very busy and rewarding life (85 in March).

"Last year awarded 50 year golden Membership Women's Overseas Service League - foreign service - W.W. I.

"Perhaps a little family history -- Nellie was always called Bly (in family for Nellie Bly) but everyone called her Helen. We were so alike in looks and work we could have been twins. She took my place in Providence A. R. C. when I went overseas. In W.W. I she had charge of Lynn, MA A.R.C. Production and later drove Motor Corps. She did 'outstanding service at the Cocoanut Grove Fire in Boston.' In 1956 she was driving her husband to the doctor and was killed in a 3-way ice skid crash. I have never realized it was real the shock was so great when Dick called at 4:00 in the morning! saying - 'Helen is gone!'

"May joined the Navy and came out a C. P. O. She used to march the goat in parades! She developed diabetis later and spent much of her last years in and out of Veteran's Hospital in Providence, RI - had one amputation at knee - a year later - second at hip - other side - never complained!

"We always spoke of mother as 'Our little Mother.' We had a wonderful family life but Helen and I were too busy 'doing' and May didn't like to write - hence the missing dates. Nat' (Nathaniel Latham) - now 'grandpa Nat' - a fine gentleman from an old RI family - was a successful and well-liked funeral director - died in April 1978.

"I have always been a very involved public person and never lonely. Helen is always near me!

"I have used full name, Anne Gage Allen, since I was in my teens."

03 baby, b. ;
d. May 18, 1916.

The death of Miss Helen Tingley on a Monday night about 9 o'clock came as extremely sad news to her family and to the legion of friends, close and distant, who had known and admired her in life.

Her long residence in Houlton, ME, her many years of association with the public schools, her charming and vivacious personality and her splendid character had endeared her to all with whom she came in contact and her passing leaves a deep void in the life of this community. Her demise was doubly grievous to those who knew of the tremendous courage and fortitude with which she bore her illness and the bravery with which she faced her suffering.

Helen came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Tingley, to Houlton, ME 19 years ago and with the exception of three years spent in teaching elsewhere, has been a resident of this town ever since. She attended the public school here and was graduated from Houlton High School in the Class of 1919. She was an honor student and also took part in the graduation exercises of her class.

She remained at home for one year before entering the Emerson School of Oratory in Boston, where she spent one year in study before returning to accept a position in the schools of Smyrna Mills. Then, after spending two years in the schools of Silver Lake, NH, she returned to Houlton, ME to live and work.

In the local schools she began her teaching in the English department of Houlton High School. After only one year in that capacity she became head of the English Department of Junior High School, which position she was still holding at the time of her death.

Her fatal illness began in September, 1930 when she submitted to an operation for appendicitis. She was away from her school for six weeks but she returned to her duties with charateristic energy and enthusiasm and carried on almost to the end of the school year, being stricken a second time just a week before the spring term was to end. At that time she entered the hospital for 10 days, returned to her home but remained there only for two weeks. She was forced to return again to the hospital for the first of a series of operations from which she failed to rally.

She was a member of the Military Street Baptist church and was always a willing worker in the affairs of the church[232].

Two types of numbers will be found in this book. One, the family number, consisting of seven digits. An example 10-00784, where the 10 indicates that the family is of the tenth generation and the 00784 indicates that it is the 784th family of that generation. The second type of number, the number of an individual as a child, consists of nine digits. An example is 10-00784-03, where the 10 indicates that the individual is a child of a 10th generation family, the 00784 indicates that the individual is a child of the 784th family of that generation, and the 03 indicates that the individual is the third child of that family. Birth dates will indicate whether or not the correct sequence of the children is known or was known (no birthdate, or dates not in sequence, sequence was probably not known when listed).

The arrangement of the book is by family numbers. Immediately preceding each family, in the center of the line will be found the family number corresponding to that family. At the beginning of the paragraph describing a family will be found the number of the head of the family as a child. This enables one to trace a line back to the beginning, that is, back to Palmer.

Under each family those children appearing elsewhere as heads of families will have, following their birthdate, the family number of the family of which they are the head, or, if married to another Tingley descendant, that child may be the spouse in that family if not shown as the head of that family. This enables one to trace the descendants of an individual.

The numbers appearing in the index are family numbers. It will be noted that some of them have a prefix "S". Such a number following an individual's name in the index indicates that the person is not a Tingley descendant, so far as has been determined at that time, but is a spouse of a Tingley descendant. Thus BERRY, Stephen Henry S10-00784 was the husband of Ina Dell Murray 09-00403-07 when she became head of family 10-00784. He is found in the paragraph just below the family number and before children are listed in the family.

When the number following an individual's name in the index has no "S" prefix that number is a family number under which the individual will be listed as a child. Thus, FILLMORE, Joyce Annie 10-00774-02 is found in the 10th generation, 774th family and is the second child shown. Number following her name is 10-00787, where she is found as the spouse.

To trace one's own line back to the beginning, that is, back to Palmer, one should start with his own name and the number which follows his name in the index. For example, as above, 10-00784-03 following name BERRY, Joy Hattie in index will be found in the 10th generation, 784th family and is the third child. The number after her name here indicates that she will be found as head of a family, with her husband and the children, in the next generation. If no number is shown, she was not married (or it was not known) at the time the book went to press. Her mother, at the beginning of the paragraph for family 10-00784 has a number preceding her name 09-00403-07. This says that she was the seventh child in the 403rd family of the ninth generation, Lucinda Ann Fillmore-Murray. By looking up the 403rd family of the ninth generation (vol. II) it will be found that Ina Dell is the 7th child and the number after her name is 10-00784. Now to trace back farther repeat as before or see instructions on page 520 since you must now follow volume II. For finding relationships between individuals see instructions in volume I, page 518.

Adopted children and their lines are carried in italics to distinguish them from those of Tingley blood.

When a person was known by his middle name rather than his first name, that name is underlined.
